

ABSTRACT

A light sideband sequence having a uniform intensity distribution is generated by inputting a light beam to an electro-optic phase modulator from a laser source, subjecting a phase modulation to the 5 light beam and setting a predetermined spatial distribution of the phase modulation index to cancel out the spatial distribution of the light beam.